

CENTRE FOR INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES IN SOCIETY AND CULTURE

ESCAPING THE GLOBAL EVENT

Keynote Address for Other 1919s: The Problem of Sovereignty in Global Context

September 6, 2019

6 – 7 :30 p.m.

Library Building, LB 322
1400 de Maisonneuve Blvd. W.

As perhaps the inaugural event of a truly global history, the First World War may have been the first to create new ideas and experiences that were shared by people around the world. The task of the global historian is then to trace the emergence of such ideas and experiences, and see how they were appropriated in different and even opposing ways, while yet being part of a single and relatively well-defined event. But how might an event like the Great War also, and by the same token, disperse these ways of thinking and feeling rather than bringing them together? This lecture attends to the way in which the first global event entailed, among other things, a rejection of its conceptual and political meaningfulness among non-European and colonized peoples. In this sense it brought into being an anti-global vision of the future, which will be analyzed in Gandhi's sudden emergence as Mahatma in 1919 and the equally unexpected mobilization of pan-Islamism in India. How might these twinned uprisings, which are always discussed in the context of the War's aftermath, actually negate its status as a global event and in doing so that of Eurocentrism as well?

Admission is free and open to the public.
The event is wheelchair accessible.

CISSC Happening
concordia.ca/artsci/cissc

Dr. Faisal Devji

St. Antony's College, Oxford University

Faisal Devji is Professor of Indian History, Fellow of St. Antony's College and Director of the Asian Studies Centre at the University of Oxford. He is Fellow of the Royal Historical Society, Senior Fellow at the School of Criticism and Theory at Cornell University and Institute for Public Knowledge Scholar at New York University. Devji received his PhD in Intellectual History from the University of Chicago, was Junior Fellow at the Harvard Society of Fellows and has held positions at Yale University and the New School for Social Research in New York, as well as being Visiting Professor at Koc University in Istanbul, Visiting Fellow at the Institute of Human Sciences in Vienna and Yves Oltramane Chair at the Graduate Institute in Geneva. He is the author of four books, Landscapes of the Jihad: Militancy, Morality, Modernity; The Terrorist in Search of Humanity: Militant Islam and Global Politics; The Impossible Indian: Gandhi and the Temptation of Violence; and Muslim Zion: Pakistan as a Political Idea.

This CISSC Happening is co-presented as part of the Other 1919s: The Problem of Sovereignty in Global Context Conference and convened by Dr. W.C. Jacob (History). Other sponsors include: the Social Justice Centre, the Department of History at Concordia University, the Institute of Islamic Studies at McGill University and Centre for Comparative Muslim Studies at Simon Fraser University.

FACULTY OF ARTS AND SCIENCE

FACULTY OF FINE ARTS